

Consent to processing and access to medical reports

Aviva Protection UK Limited (Aviva or we) may need to apply for a report from any doctor you've been seeing, about your physical or mental health and needs your permission to do this. The report may include details of an illness or injury you've suffered and can be sent by your doctor by post or electronically using secure software.

We'll capture your consent where you select an option and sign below. This is a legally valid way for us to obtain your permission and is legally binding (in accordance with, where relevant, the laws of United Kingdom (UK), and Isle of Man).

If you've not consented, we may not be able to continue with your application for cover.

Why we may need a report from your doctor

We may seek a medical report for the following reasons:

- To help Aviva Protection UK Limited make a decision about the insurance you've applied for and the terms and conditions of the cover that we may provide.
- To help Aviva Protection UK Limited, and our reinsurers, monitor that the information you provided was accurate within 12 months of your application for insurance with us. Incorrect or misleading information could lead to the insurance being cancelled from the start of the cover, or a risk a future claim being rejected or the benefit payable being reduced.

The laws that allow us to process your personal information

We explain below why we're seeking to process your personal information and the legal basis for doing so in accordance with data protection law. The law is the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (GDPR), and in the UK the Data Protection Act 2018; in the Isle of Man the Data Protection Act 2018.

We can process your personal information on the legal basis that we've obtained your consent, or because it's in our legitimate interests with respect to the insurance we provide, or it's necessary for us to prepare to enter into, or for the performance of rights and obligations in connection with, the insurance or contract that we may provide.

We use your information for research and analysis purposes to assess the risks we face, to develop our products, and in order to assess and verify any claims made under the insurance we provide. We also share information, where necessary, with: any doctor you've been seeing, our reinsurers in relation to the products reinsured under agreements with them and relating to the monitoring of the accuracy of information provided to us as we are obliged to do under reinsurance agreements, with other companies within the Aviva group, and our service providers, who provide services to us in relation to our products.

Your statutory rights under access to medical reports law

You have statutory rights under access to medical reports law in the UK and the Isle of Man, which set out how medical reports for insurance purposes can be obtained from a doctor, who has been or is looking after you. In England, Wales and Scotland, your statutory rights are set out in the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988; in Northern Ireland in the Access to Personal Files and Medical Reports (Northern Ireland) Order 1991; and in the Isle of Man in the Access to Health Records and Reports Act 1993. Your rights are summarised as follows.

Before giving your permission for Aviva Protection UK Limited to apply for a medical report, you have three options:

- 1. You may consent to our application for a medical report and indicate that you don't wish to see a copy before it's supplied to us. You still have the right to ask your doctor for a copy of the report at any time up to six months after it's been supplied to us.
- 2. You may consent to our application for a medical report, but indicate that you wish to see the report before it's supplied to us. If you choose this option, you must contact your doctor directly to request to see the report; it will not be sent to you automatically. If your doctor has not heard from you within 21 days after we asked them to prepare the report, they'll assume you don't wish to see the report and will send it directly to us. You have the right to ask your doctor to amend the report if there is anything in it that you consider incorrect or misleading.

If your doctor is unwilling to make changes, you may:

- a) withdraw consent for the report to be issued
- b) ask for a statement setting out your views to be attached, or
- c) agree to the report being issued unchanged.

Your doctor is not obliged to show you any parts of the report that they believe might cause serious harm to your physical or mental health or that of others. Neither do they have to show you information about other people without their permission.

- 3. You may refuse to give your consent.
